GERMANS UNABLE TO ENTIRELY STOP FRENCH ADVANCE

Enemy Now Reinforced By Fresh Artillery and Infantry Divisions

(By the Associated Press)

WITH THE FRENCH ARMY IN FRANCE, Aug. 12.—(By The Associated Press)—Altho the Germans have been reinforced with both artillery and infantry and are resisting more strongly between the Avre and the Oise their fresh divisions have been unable entirely to stop the advancing French who now have a firm hold on Thiescourt plateau. South of Roye and northwest of Noyon the French hold positions that command the only roads leading from Roye and Ribecourt toward Noyon over which the the enemy can withdraw his artillery.

Increasing difficulties attending their retreat are driving the Germans to desperate sacrifices in their efforts to check the allies' advance around the positions the Germans hold on Thiescourt plateau. Their losses are extremely heavy and their dead lie all over the field. They are found in shells holes and nooks where they vainly sought protection from the French fire.

Privations were endured by the Germans in the front line recently. This was evidenced by a letter found since the offensive began from an officer who informed his relatives in Germany, French artillery had been furnishing the only meat available by killing horses. Another officer wrote he was able to send along with his message of love and hope a sack of wheat he had just gleaned from an adjoining field.

Captured by Allies.

With The British Army in France, Aug. 12.—(By The Associated Press)—Two enemy airdromes and more prisoners have been captured by the allies. The prisoners are from fresh Prussian and Bavarian divisions and have been taken during the past two hours.

Now Have Sufficient Numbers.

Paris, Aug. 12.—Havas Agency—Referring to the formation of the first army of the Americans in the field the Journal Des Debats says:

"The Americans did not wait until now to give on the battle fields proof of their valor, for on their arrival at the front they fought alongside the British and French armies.

"The Americans are now in sufficient numbers and have acquired enough experience to form a separate army."

Situation Still Difficult.

With the British Army in France, Aug. 12.—(By The Associated Press)—The situation north of the Somme is still difficult. The Germans with their backs to the river are apparently holding the high ground southwest of Etinehem, which is firmly in the hands of the allies this morning in spite of enemy resistance at this point. After a quiet night the Americans were holding a section of the line at Bray, north of the Somme. Just south of the river, the Germans seem to have strong forces in Cateaux wood. While Herleville and Chaulnes are considered to be in enemy territory, Australian patrols seem to have been operating there.

Add 2,000 Prisoners.

With the British Army in France, Aug. 12.—Reuter's—In yesterday's fighting the French added 2,000 prisoners and more than thirty guns to their captures. There was stiff fighting today, Crown Prince Rupprecht having hurried up part of his diminishing reserves to try to check the retirement of the armies of Generals von der Marwitz and Hutier. Greatly increased artillery and machine gun fire was proof of the rapid strengthening of enemy reinforcements.

Lull Over Battlefield.

With The French Army in France, Aug. 12.—(Reuter's)—There was a lull over the battlefield this morning. On the front of the French first and third armies the enemy was endeavoring to establish himself on the line of Roye-Lassigny and the French were incontact with him along the greater part of this line which runs about two miles in front of Roye and three miles in front of Lassigny. The line extends from Andechy close to the Amiens-Roye road, thru Dancourt and Tilloloy and on to Gury.

The enemy's reserves now are taking a vigorous part in the battle which is over terrain that was covered by the German offensives in March and May of this year. The first three days of irresistible allied regiments that met the first shock. The army of General von Hutier with its left resting on the Massif of Thiescourt and on the Oise at Noyon is sufficiently well placed for a defensive battle except for the threat of a further advance on the Roye road.

Hand-To-Hand Fightging.

Paris, Aug. 12.—There has been desperate hand-to-hand fighting during the last two days on the Chaulnes-Roye-Lassigny-Noyon front. The Germans are defending the ground inch by

Made up of Five Corps—Under Command of General Pershing—Will Operate North of the Marne.

The army will be commanded by General Pershing and it is understood, will operate in the area north of the Marne from which the Germans have been driven out. The American divisions which participated in that drive have been under French command but are now included in the first army.

Meanwhile he will have two headquarters, at the first army as well as at general headquarters.

The size of the army has not been announced beyond the indication that it contains five corps commanded by Major-Generals Liggett, Bullard, Bundy, Reed and Wright. Each corps is composed of several divisions, with each division including 30,000 troops of all arms, while the corps in addition will have its complement of auxiliary troops, supply troops, air squadrons, tanks and heavy artillery. It is understood that other armies will be formed shortly in view of the recent Washington announcement that 1,300,000 American troops already had sailed for France.

Letters Reveal War Attitude of the I. W. W.

CHICAGO, Aug. 12.—A large number of letters were read into the record of the I. W. W. trial before federal Judge Landis today by Frank K. Nebeker, chief counsel for the prosecution in support of the government's charge that William D. Haywood, general secretary and treasurer of the organization talked and worked against conscription and the war used his influence as head of the body to interfere with the government's military policy. On direct examination Haywood declared that he had never spoken a word or written a line in opposition to conscription and the war work.

On cross-examination today Attorney Nebeker produced a mass of documentary evidence to repute the denial of the I. W. W. leader. Haywood was kept busy in a vain effort to explain the contents of letters which he had written and received from his lieutenants containing numerous references against the government's war plans. On several occasions he denied having written certain letters with which he was unexpectedly confronted and attempted to place the blame on his assistants. Attorney Nebeker then read a list of I. W. W. epigrams in Haywood's own hand writing which the leader admitted having composed for use in public addresses. They read as follows:

"Join the army and navy, confess and be prepared to die."

"It is better to be a traitor to a country than a traitor to your class."

"A live soldier is a hobo, a dead soldier is a hero."

"Why be a soldier? Be a man, join the I. W. W. and fight, on the job yourself and your class."

"A policeman is a pimple, a soldier a boil on the body politic; both the result of a diseased system."

"A soldier is the man behind the gun, but the man behind the man behind the gun is to blame for the war."

Haywood said that some of these sentiments were written before the present war and were directed against the state militia for its activity in crushing labor strikes.

War News Summary

News of Activities On Various Battle Fronts in Summarized Form By Associated Press.

Altho the Germans are employing fresh forces of reserves in efforts to hold back the allied troops who are pressing them from the region of the Somme to the Oise, the American, British and French armies continue to make progress. Monday witnessed gains of ground at various points along the battle front of high importance for the further prosecution of the endeavors of the allies to drive out the Germans from the old Amiens-Montdidier sector.

After an extremely bitter contest the Americans and British have gained a foothold in the important little town of Bray-sur-Somme, on the northern bank of the Somme. A short distance across the river to the south the British have taken Proyart and mid-way of the line have pressed on to the east of Fouquescourt in a maneuver which has resulted in the further outflanking of Chaulnes from the south and of Roye from the north.

On their part the French in the rolling country immediately north of the Oise river have captured Gury, a position of strategic value lying southwest of Lassigny and at several other points southward to the region of the Oise have advanced their line further toward Noyon.

In Monday's fighting hundreds of additional Germans were made prisoner and the enemy also lost heavily in men, killed or wounded.

Unofficial reports give the number of Germans captured during the present offensive as in the neighborhood of 40,000.

The Germans at last accounts were still throwing reinforcements to the east of the road running thru Chaulnes, Roye and Noyon, the passage of which by the allies would seriously menace all the German forces in the pocket formed by the Somme on the north and east and Aisne on the south.

Allied airplanes continue to bomb German positions and are using machine guns from low altitude on troop formation.

Seemingly the advances by the French troops on the southern part of the line cannot but have an extremely important effect on the present battle. The hill positions they have gained not alone dominate the Oise valley running northeastward to Noyon but around Lassigny also give them a sweep of the plains south of Roye. In the Montdidier sector little fighting has taken place on any of the fronts. Along the Vesle the Germans again have delivered violent counter-attacks against the American and French troops who are holding ground on the north bank of the stream. As on previous occasions when the enemy attempted to dislodge the allied troops the counter-attacks failed.

British aircraft have brought down a German airship off the coast of Holland, according to an announcement by the British admiralty. An unofficial report announces that a Zeppelin of the largest and newest type has been brought down off the English coast.

Army Discipline is Satisfied in Exceptional Case

AYER, Mass., Aug. 12.—How army discipline was satisfied in trying the case of a sixteen year old soldier who deserted to support his mother and two small brothers came to light at Camp Devens today. Two days after Russell R. Vaughn enlisted in Company I of the 42nd infantry at Council Bluffs, Ia., last August he received word from his mother that his father was incapacitated for work and that she and the children were dependent on charity. Without formality of applying for leave, the boy went home and for six months supported the family. The day his father was able to resume work, Russell gave himself up to military authority at Fort Omaha. The case was so plainly against the boy when he was courtmartialed for desertion that the court was obliged to sentence him to three years at hard labor, forfeiture of pay and allowances and dishonorable discharge.

Major Barratt O'Hara, former lieutenant governor of Illinois, now judge advocate at Camp Devens, where the regiment had been transferred recommended clemency. The sentence was mitigated to six months at hard labor by Col. George L. Byroade, commandant. With all the requirements of strict army discipline fulfilled, Colonel Byroade at once suspended the mitigated sentence and restored the boy to his old place in his company with a bit of soldierly advice.

The regulations will not apply to hotels owned and operated by railroads since these have not been taken over by the government.

Wilson Praises Achievements of Defense Councils

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12. — Achievements of state councils of defense were praised by President Wilson today in a letter to Secretary Baker in reference to the secretary's suggestion that the machinery of the state councils be used as far as possible by all federal agencies in extending their work.

"I have read with great interest your account of the achievements of the state councils of defense and your general summary of the activities in which they are now engaged,' 'the president wrot. "It is a notable record and I shall be glad to have you expressed to the state councils my appreciation of the services they have so usefully rendered. I am particularly struck by the value of extending defense organization into the smallest communities and by the truly democratic character of a national system so organized. I believe in the soundness of your contention that in the interest of economy and efficiency such machinery as that provided by the state council system for the execution of many kinds of war work should be utilized as far as possible by federal departments and administrations. May I suggest therefore that you communicate to the heads of all such departments and administrations my wish that when they are considering extension of their organizations into the state of new work to be done in the state, they determine carefully whether they cannot utilize the state council system, thus rendering unnecesery; and that they transmit all resary the creation of new machinquests for action by the state councils thru the state councils section of the council of national defense."

SUBMARINE GAS OVERCOMES SIX COAST GUARDS

First Direct Effort To Harm Persons or Property in U. S.

(By the Associated Press)

BULLETIN

BOSTON, Aug. 12. — Two submarines raiding the fishing fleet on Georges Banks Saturday and the crews of the fishing schooners Oldtime and Cruiser probably were lost when their boats were sunk by gunfire without warning according to the crew of the fishing schooner Mary Sennet who were landed here tonight. The Sennet was also sunk by gunfire and shells were fired at the boats when they were putting away, the fishermen said.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—Gas from oil discharged on the water by the German submarine operating off the middle Atlantic coast, overcame six men in the coast guard station and light house on Smith's Island, North Carolina, Saturday evening the navy department was advised today by the commandant of the sixth naval district.

If the gas attack were deliberate as most officials believed, it constituted a new and ingenuous form of frightfulness, and so far as has been reported was the first direct effort of the German raiders to harm persons or property on American shores. The gas was said by the commandant of the coast guard station to have much the same effect as the mustard gas used by the Germans on the western front. The men were laid out for more than half an hour, but apparently suffered no serious after effects.

The despatch relating to the gas attack, one of a series concerning submarine warfare off the Atlantic Coast received today by the navy department. One told of an attack off the Virginia coast by an American destroyer which dropped seventeen depth bombs where the raider was seen to submerge. Sinking of the British Steamer Penistone of 4,139 gross tons and the Swedish Steamer Sydland of 3,031 gross tons in New England waters near where ten fishing smacks were destroyed Sunday also was reported to the navy department today. The former was torpedoed Sunday with the fate of her crew still undetermined while the latter was destroyed by bombs Aug. 8, and her crew later rescued by passing ships.

Another despatch said four survivors of the fishing schooner Katie Palmer landed at New Bedford, Mass., reported that they had been taken aboard the submarine, the commander of which boasted that he was equipped to remain in American waters for six months if he desired.

The submarine was described by the men as being about 300 feet long with a conning tower 15 feet high and mounting one gun. The raider carried a crew of 60 men, according to the survivors, who were held aboard the submersible for a time and later set adrift in a dory.

While reports from the commandants of the Smith's Island coast guard station and sixth naval district clearly indicated their firm belief that the gas attack on the island was deliberate, some officers tonight thought there was a possibility that the submarine had discharged the oil and gas after having been wrecked on a reef.

Attention was called to the fact that the action of the salt water on electric batteries used by submarines generates chlorine gas which is similar to mustard gas in its effect and is deadly if encountered in a closed space. If the submarine were wrecked, it was said this gas would be generated and would come to the surface with the oil which would be freed.

No such possibility however, was mentioned in the navy department's announcement which said:

Issues Statement

"The navy department has received a despatch from the commandant of the sixth naval district Charleston, S. C., stating that an attack with gas was attempted on the North Crolina coast about 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon with the result of temporarily putting out of business the coast guard station and light house personnel. The report goes on to say:

"About forty minutes after the attack three large oil spot, each over one acre in extent were observed passing by Smith Island to the north. This oil from which the gas was no doubt generated must have been released from a submarine in the vicinity of the entrance to the channel with the hope that it would come in with the tide, but the tide fortunately set along the island.

"'Report was made to Colonel Chase, coast artillery corps, Fort Caswell, N. C., by Captain Willard of the Smith Island coast guard after the effects of the gas

The Kaiser cannot much longer deceive the German people as to conditions on the battle lines.

The Brooklyn Eagle remarks that the Kaiser's sons are "lilies of the field but not of the battlefield."

Lenine and Trotsky are experiencing some difficulty in turning the Russian empire over to their German masters for the "thirty pieces of pelf" promised them.

Congress should rush the bill for adding five million men to the army. Our forces thus strengthened would be the surest means of ending the war satisfactorily and to bring a just and lasting peace.

"The world is not big enough to hold peace and Prussian militarism at the same time" is a remark attributed to Clarence Darrow, who since the beginning of the war has been working and talking wholeheartedly in support of American war aims.

People who never expected to see their second friends until the war is over may be in for a happy disappointment, for the Government will soon be bringing back the regiments first across, as the nucleus of new divisions to be formed in this country. Each new infantry division will be built around two veteran regiments, and as there are no trained regiments at home it will be necessary to bring them from France.

THE WAY TO VOTE.
(From the Orange Judd Farmer.)

There are two kinds of men who run for public office—maybe more. One kind asks to be elected in order that he may perform certain stunts which he promises to perform if elected. He will guarantee to vote this way or that on some question that folks are wrought up about, and his promises sometimes sound good. That sort of man may do in drowsy times of peace, but he won't do now. You might as well write a letter to congress as to send him. The other sort is the fellow who has real brains and judgment, who promises very little except to do his best every day and serve his country. He will not go to congress on a promise to pull wires and obtain any special legislation to benefit farmers, laborers or any other special class of people. He is just an honest man with brains to conceive and courage to act—that's all—and may God guide the pencils of our Illinois voters to pick out such a one to represent them in the United States senate.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

In one day's list you find Hoskins, Kohlmeier, Maciejewski, Nowanty, Perry, Sullivan, Verdoukas, Bergman, Laughlin, Beckerle, Doering, Ganski, Murphy, Suarks, Villoto, Szyperki, Cooper, Hutchinson, Pooley, McCue, Schwartz, Stone, Patterson, Thomas, Brown, Farrell, Maximovich, Moriarity, Walton, Knutson and so on.

Now read behind the names: Figure out where the ancestors of those American boys came from. We can't tell what countries contributed their blood thru the female line, but in the male line there is evidence of Irish, German, Polish, Russian, Greek, English, Scandinavian and Italian blood. Yet everyone of these soldiers is an American—fighting under the Stars and Stripes, says the Springfield Journal.

We have read about the Indian scouts with Pershing's army. They come of the only original American race. After Columbus came the Spaniards, the English, the Dutch, the Irish, the Germans, the French, the Italians, the Poles, the Hungarians, the Russians and others.

All contributed their blood. All went into the great melting pot to come out as Americans—the Americans of whom all of us now are so proud.

RIPPLING RHYMS

MORE SLACKING.

There are a hundred ways to slack, and each is worse than all the rest; so place your burden on your back, and do your stunt with joyous zest. In these grim times employers need the very best their help can give, if they would keep up proper speed, and dodge the bankrupt court and live. If you don't do the best you can to help the boss survive the stress, you're following a loathsome plan—the slacker's spirit you confess. This is no time to loaf and talk, when there are useful things to do; it is a time to watch the clock, or ogle all the dames in view. You may have bought a pair of stamps or may have bought a bond or two, but you train with the shirking scamps if you're not busy as a bee. This war won't last a thousand years, it may run out before next May, and then we'll be all kinds of tears for those who slacked their time away. Your boss will say, "Augie Keip, when wartime troubles made me yell, and I was needing loyal help, you were not there; three hoots in Hannibal, Mo.! And he'll denounce you as a swab, and maybe groom you with a chair; and every place you hunt a job, your slacking record will be there. But if you do your duty now, whatever sort of place you fill, you'll have the laurels on your brow when we have pickled Kaiser Bill.

MEMORIAL SERVICES OF IMPRESSIVE CHARACTER

WERE HELD IN HONOR OF DEAD SOLDIERS.

Beautiful Tributes Paid to Harold Bartlett and George James Sunday Evening — Exercises Held on Congregational Church Lawn—Large Number Present.

That people of Jacksonville fully appreciate and respect the memory of her fallen heroes was well evidenced by the grand gathering Sunday evening on the lawn of the Congregational church when people from all parts of the city assembled to participate in the services in memory of Harold Bartlett and George James, two of our noble young men whose lives have been sacrificed in the cause of human freedom and justice. The Mothers' association inaugurated the movement for the memorial.

Rev. W. E. Spoonts presided and the place was honored by the presence of the Grand Army, the home guards, the Woman's Relief Corps, the Canteen Gorls in their handsome uniforms and a large and representative assembly. Ernest Fernandes very capably led the singing, Miss Mabel Wyatt accompanying. "America" was the first number and then Rev. W. R. Leslie offered the invocation. Scripture was read and prayer offered by Rev. A. A. Todd after which Dr. Spoonts said, "We are gathered here in memorial service in honor of the memory of two of our boys who have gone to their final reward having made the supreme sacrifice to preserve the liberty of the world and prevent the hosts of autocracy from overwhelming mankind. I now take pleasure in introducing

Hon. J. J. Reeve

Of his remarks only a very few items are practicable. "We have been in the war a year and this is the first time we have been called on to pay the supreme sacrifice on the field of battle. Well may we say with Lincoln,

"Cheers for the living,
Tears for the dead."

"We have now some 1,200 boys from this county in the war and we must remember they are not there alone because the Lusitania was sunk; because the most outrageous indignities that human beings can inflict; they are there to protect your home and mine from a heartless, would be invader just as the Frenchmen and the Belgiansare fighting at the western front today.

"What God has in store for us we cannot say but certainly when the war is over we shall come out a better and nobler people without doubt.

"Nations must make a supreme sacrifice as well as individuals. Nations can only be punished in this world and those which do wrong will have to suffer the consequences. Supreme sacrifices must be made if we are to attain any great goal. It has been so from the beginning and always will be so. The mothers and sisters in France will go out and place on the graves of the men who gave their lives in the great work, sweet and fragrant flowers in token of gratitude and love. When this war is over and the five million men come home flushed with victory then will come an important and reconstruction period when our best energies must be called into use.

"But the war is not yet over. America is planning to spend $25,000,00 for a cannon factory in France and it is for you and me to get under the great effort and do our part in making the cause of the Allies a success"

The Canteen girls then, with Miss Fern Haig as saloist, sang with fine effect

"The Vacant Chairt"

A well known song of the Civil War after which

Capt. J. M. Swales

Was introduced and made a characteristic address full of feeling and sympathy for the bereaved mothers and all who have suffered in the great war. A very few thoughts are given.

"We have met here this evening to pay a deserved tribute to the memory of two gallant men who have made the supreme sacrifice for their country. They gave their young lives in defense of the country freed by our fathers long ago. They have passed to the eternal camping ground away in Sunny France, whose soil will be hallowed by their precious blood.

"They gave their noble lives in defense of the flag that you, my comrades of the Grand Army fought to keep from being trailed in the dust.

"When the fires of freedom burned low during the Civil War then it was that the mothers' patriotism shone brightest and gave the men courage. In all wars mothers have suffered martyrdom and will continue to do so while time shall last. Language is inadequate to portray the anguish the devoted mother feels when her loved ones suffer death. My mother and your mother suffered more than we shall ever know during the Civil War. My mother placed three of her four sons on the altar of her country and I thank God that I endured four years of that conflict and was always ready to make the supreme sacrifice if need be.

"The mothers of Bartlett and James whose remains hallow the soil of our sister republic have our full sympathy. We who have been thru the furnace of war the hell of hate know better how to sympathize with them than do those who were born since that time. We members of an army that is rapidly vanishing away know best what is the feeling of those who are giving their loved one to the saving of the country.

"May He who tempers the wind to the shorn lamb be with the mothers in this their supreme affliction and be their comfort and consolation. Mothers of today: it is yours to make the sacrifice made by those of the Civil War. Be inspired by the example of Mother Bickerdyke, Clara Barton and others and the hearts of all true patriots will beat in sympathy with ours.

"Members of the Morgan County Motherhood association, on behalf of the local post of the Grand Army, I salute you and tender you our sympathy for the loss of these two young men. God bless and sustain you and give you courage to meet whatever losses may come in the future. Remember that "there is a silver lining behind the dark cloud shining" and that it is darkest just before dawn."

Robert Shumaker then sang in a fine manner and with superb voice, "The Soldier's Song". Mrs. W. E. Spoonts accompanying.

The audience then sang "The Battle Hymn of the Republic" and then Captain Swales offered the following resolutions:

Whereas, Other cities thruout the state have arranged to construct memorial tablets on which to place the names of their soldiers killed in the present war for humanity

Resolved, That it the sense of this meeting that a memorial on which the names of Morgan county soldiers who give their lives during the war shall be wrought in bronze and placed on said memorial in some public place in the county seat; that the chairman of this meeting, A. A. Todd, be empowered to appoint a committee consisting of five,, at least one of whom shall be a member of the local post of the G. A. R.; that the money necessary for the purpose shall be raised by subscription and donations from the patriotic citizens of Jacksonville and Morgan county.

He moved its adoption and Mrs. Danskin seconded and it carried unanimously. The following were named by Dr. Todd:

H. J. Rodgers,
E. E. Crabtree,
Capt. J. M. Swales,
Mrs Miller Weir,
J. W. Walton.

Tribute to Harold Bartlett.

George Douglas, to whose class in Central Christian church Sunday school Harold Bartlett belonged then read the following.

Harold H. Bartlett was the son of William A. Barlett of 348 East College avenue and was born and reared in this city. He was the first recruit for the marines signed up by Postmaster Ralph I Dunlap after receiving his credentials as a recruiting officer.

Private Bartlett was the first Jacksonville and Morgan county boy to be killed in action. He was a momber of the marines and during recent weeks had been in the thick of the hardest fighting that had ben done by the American troops.

Speaking of the incident Mr. Dunlap said, "I remember well the day that Bartlett came to make inquiries about enlistment. He was most enthusiastic and said that he wanted to enlist in the marines.

"Sergeant Hanson, who was recruiting for the army, happened to be in the office at the time and said he would like to have Bartlett for the army. Bartlett replied that the marines was his first choice and if he couldn't get in that service he would try the army.

"He took the examination and passed with high marks. About five days afterward his transportation came and I notified him. This was obout 8 o'clock in the morning. I asked him when he wanted to go and he said immediately. I suggested that he would not be able to bid his family good-bye and take the 9:45 o'clock Alton train. However, he assured me and Mr. Harbor that he could do so and took the train for [illegible]is. He had never been farth[illegible]way from home than Springfield before. He only remained a few days at Jefferson Barracks when he was sent to Paris Island and then across."

Mr. Dunlap also commented upon Bartlett's fine physique. He said he was finely proportioned and gave evidence of great strength.

Harold would have been 19 years of age had he lived until November. He has a brother, William A. Bartlett, Jr., who is in the cavalry and stationed at Brownsville, Texas. Another brother, Glenn, conducts a bicycle repair shop on North Main street. He is 17 years old and recently tried to enlist, but was rejected because of his age.

Harold became a member of the Central Christian church Oct. 31, 1915. His name is one among about seventy others on the honor roll and service flag of this church up to the present time and was a member of the Y. M. C. A. He was one of the star athletes of that institution and was deservedly popular with the membership. Secretary Findley said that he was regarded as one of the most valuable members of the association. He was a member of the Boy Scouts and was active in all branches of Y. M. C. A. work. He was a member of the Bible school class of Central Christian church of which I have the honor of being the teacher. Three members, including Harold, have been in France for some time.

Harold was a perfect boy, but was willing to take as his great example the life of Jesus who grew in wisdom and stature in favor with God and man

Tribute to George James

Rev. W. R. Leslie then read a letter from George James' mates already published and the following from the chaplain.

Somewhere in France.

Mr. Charles James,
General Delivery,
Chatham, Ill.

Dear Sir: It is my painful duty to write you ill news of George H. James, Headquarters company, 124th Field artillery. He became ill on July 7, 1918, and after the faithful efforts of our regimental surgeons failed to bring him relief, he was sent to the base hospital of a large camp nearby.

He had a severe case of cerebro-meningitis, complicated by stomach and intestinal disorder. In spite of every effort to save him for the regiment and country he departed this life on July 17, 1918, and on account of his malady was buried in the United States Military cemetery at Valdahon, France, on July 18,1918.

He was interred with military honors and a Christian service. His grave is marked and may be readily located at any time. A record of his identity, etc., was buried with him and upon his grave I placed a beautiful cross of red roses; the color of regiment (artillery), and a token of the high esteem in which we regarded him.

May the Good Lord rest his soul in peace, and sustain you in your great and sudden loss. Faithfully yours,

Charles W. Hill,
Chaplain 124th F. A. A.E. F.

Obituary.

George Harvey James was born May 21, 1890, at Broadlands, Champaign county, Illinois, and lived there until the age of 15 years. During the years he attended the Methodist church and Sunday school. He moved with his parents to Woodson, Ill. In the fall of 1905 he made a public confession of his faith in Jesus as his Savior in a meeting held by Rev. E. P. Looset at the Unity Presbterian church at Woodson. There being no Methodisa church near, he placed his membership in the United Presbyterian church at Woodson When he moved to Jacksonville he decided that he wanted to place his membership in the Methodist church near, he placed his childhood.

He attended the Jacksonville high school and the Brown's business college.

George enlisted as a mechanic in the 124th Field artillery in August, 1917, in Springfield, Ill. He went with the company of 124th F. A. to Camp Logan, Houston, Texas, in September, 1917, and remained in training there until May 13, when he was moved to Camp Merritt, New Jersey. From where he sailed to England and stopped at a rest camp. From England he went to a rest camp in France.

The last letter received from him was written June 11 stating that they were in France and they would soon be at a permanent camp.

George was 28 years and one month old.

The death of George was in a way similar to that of his Grandfather James who enlisted in the Civil War and in three months his remains were sent home in a metallic coffin. Both made the supreme sacrifice for their country, tho their term of service was brief. But the worth of a person should not be estimated in terms of years.

"We live in deeds, not years; in thoughts, not breaths;
In feelings, not in figures on a dial.
We should count time by heart throbs.
He most lives who thinks most, feels the noblest, acts the best."

Judged by that lofty standard, George's short life was of priceless worth He was a young man of sterling character with high ideals and earnest character with high ideals and earnest devotion to whatsoever things are true and worth while. He took a deep personal interest in his Sunday school class and in the church as well. Nobody could question that he was a sincere and consistent follower of the Master of Life. All who knew him commended him in the most enthusiastic manner for his manly and winsome qualities.

While his death seems tremendously sad to all of us, yet it should prove a means of stimulation to make our own lives count for more. Upon our memory this inspiring career which illustrates the very principles of Christianity which need emphasis at all times. After all, the greatest duty and privilege which life affords us to be a follower of Christ and to embody His spirit. The outstanding trait of George James was the fact that he was a Christian. In the truest sense he was ready for this inevitable change which awaits us all. And falling as he did in yonder field of glory, his name will always be associated with the heroic and beloved patriots who have given their all upon the altar of freedom.

While his body lies across the Atlantic ocean, somewhere in France his splendid virile soul will shine on. His star on the service flag has turned to gold and his soul has been translated from the bloodstained battlefields of time to the many mansions where "all we have willed or hoped or dreamed of good shall exist." While his life will go on in greater fullness there his influence on earth will roll as echoes from soul to soul and grow forever and forever.

I am sure you will think me no less interested in this service and no less patriotic if I close this service at this time. I am sure that we hold in sacred memory the lives and work of these noble sons of Morgan county. I am sure we would like to do them all the honor that it is possible for us to do. I am sure it will draw us closer to one another and will make us more interested in the great struggle that is going on. I am sure their names will go down in the history of this county as being the noble sons who were ready to pay the supreme sacrifice for our liberties, for the protection of our homes, for the defense of womanhood and childhood and the suffering humanity at large.

The audience then sang "Nearer My God to Thee", and prayer by Dr. Rule ended the solemn exercises.

Harry S. McGee, a farmer residing in the Shiloh neighborhood died at Passavant hospital at 8 o'clock Sunday morning from shock resulting from being kicked in the stomach by a colt last Friday afternoon.

McGee was assisting in driving some stock in the barn Friday afternoon about 4 o'clock. A colt about one year old had some burrs in its tail and Mr. McGee attempted to take them out when the animal kicked, its heels striking him in the stomach.

OBITUARY.

George Thomas Liter was born in Burbon County, near Lexington, Kentucky, October 19, 1839. He passed to his reward, Aug. 8, 1918 at Literberry, Ill. He was married Sept. 2, 1885 to Elizabeth Coulson of Little Indian. To this union were born six children, three of whom survive. They are Margaret, now Mrs. C. C. Butler of Vandalia, Mo.; Maud, Mrs. Harry Martin of Sinclair, Ill., and Miss Georgia, at home. He is also survived by four grandchildren, Neva, Vivian and Lucille Butler and George Martin and by one sister, Mrs. Francis Pierce of Springfield and one brother, Mr. Abraham Liter of Virginia, Ill.

Mr. Liter's parents John and Margaret Liter journeyed to Illinois in typical pioneer fashion bringing with them their family of eight children. They settled one mile northeast of the present town of Literberry. At this time Mr. Liter was four years old. The early part of his life was spent at home on the farm where his time was divided between his usual farm duties and in cheerfully and kindly attending his invalid mother.

After the death of his mother Mr. Liter took up the trade of a carpenter. In this he met with such success that he became one of the most prominent contractors in this section. His carpenter shop which he owned in Literberry was enlarged to a hardware store and then little by little to general merchandise until it was among the largest general stores of the country precincts.

Had Optimistic Spirit.

His business life was characterized by an unusually optimistic spirit which was frequently put to the test. In the cyclone of 1882 he lost his home and store and other property, but he at once set to work and rebuilt his home and store. He always took an active part in all interests of the community and not the least of these was his church life. For 25 years Mr. Liter was a member of the Christian church of which he has been a trustee for many years.

In this vicinity where his life of nearly 70 years was spent and wherever he was known he was affectionately called "Uncle Tom" by everybody. No other name seemed to fit him. The new comer and the occasional visitor accepted it at once.

Uncle Tom was noted for his charitable disposition. Many many were his benefactions, benevolences and gifts to every good cause. He couldn't say no, he never did say no. His heart was too warm and kind and gentle to say no. If his best friends ever felt like scolding it was because he was too trusting and too generous. No one who ever went to him for aid was sent empty-handed away. It was his rule to never let his left hand know what his right hand gave and could he at any time or for any period, have been confronted with the sum total of what he had given away, no one would have been more surprised than he.

The Children's Friend.

Uncle Tom was the children's friend. With a child's intuition they understood and trusted him. They came to him with their joys and sorrows and found a faithful friend. No child visited his store and went away without its hands filled with sweets or something dear to a child's heart. Among those who will miss him most are his four little grandchildren whom he loved with a devotion past understanding.

Uncle Tom was an optimist. Pessimism found no place in his character or his nature. Who ever found him with a gloomy prospect of the present or gloomy foreboding of the future. He had no complaints to make, no faults to find. Everything was all right everything was going to be all right. He counted that fate had never been unkind to him, that he had more than he had earned, all he was entitled to and numerous blessings thrown in. He enjoyed what he had and was thankful, what he did not have never troubled him at all. He looked ahead with all confidence and trusted the Great Ruler implicitly. He was never cast down or discouraged, never thought of giving up. Always had a pleasant word, a cheerful greeting and the blues never lingered in his company.

A Landmark in the Community.

Uncle Tom was a landmark, a pioneer, all his life spent here, was here before Literberry was, knew and was known of all who have had to do with the making of the town and community. A little giant in physical strength, a man of exemplary habits and active life made him a strong man even in his old age. Naturally industrious, always at work. Every one who knew Literberry knew Uncle Tom. Nothing doubtful, nothing uncertain about him. Always knew where to find him, where he stood on all questions. An outstanding, upstanding fixed character in the community.

Uncle Tom was a good man. He would have been the last to claim, for himself, infallibility. Some mistakes he may have made, errors in judgment sometimes possibly, but no one ever thought of questioning his sincerity or integrity. Trusting others many times to the point of being imposed upon.

The Golden Rule was his rule of life and no one can say he did not love his neighbors as himself. He was a devoted husband, an affectionate and indulgent father. He has gone to his reward, he will be greatly missed and will leave an influence for good on all whose lives came in touch with his.

"Be thou faithful unto death and I will give thee a crown of life." Who can say that Uncle Tom has not been faithful.

Funeral Held Sunday.

The funeral was held Sunday at 10:30 at the Christian church in Literberry and was attended by an unusually large number of relatives and friends. The funeral sermon was preached by the Rev. Claude Keltner, pastor of the church, assisted by the Rev. Smith pastor of the Baptist church.

Music was furnished by a quartet composed of Mrs. L. A. Cooper, Mrs. J. M. Liter, L. A. Cooper and J. S. Hitchens. Mrs. Durrel Crum pianist.

There was a great profusion of beautiful flowers, the tribute of his host of friends. The flowers were cared for by Mrs. Joe Rheinback, Mrs. Bert Way, Mrs. Clyde Lewis, Miss Mae Martin and Miss May Myers.

The pallbearers were Joe Liter, J. M. Daniels, W. H. Crum, Albert Crum, W. E. Murry and Howard Liter.

Interment was in the Liter family cemetery.

IN FLANDERS FIELD

(By Capt. F. C. Taylor)

Flanders, a former country or district of Europe, is now included in Holland, Belgium and France. It stretches from the Scheldt, before Fort Lillo, west along the Hond, or West Scheldt, and west southwest along the German ocean, to the entrance of the Straights of Dover, near Gravelines. The name occurs for the first time in the seventh century. The erection of the territory into a county took place in the ninth century, and was made by Philip the Bold, king of France, in favor of his son-in-law, Baldwin of the Iron Arm. It afterwards passed to the United Houses of Spain and Austria and ultimately to the latter, but underwent considerable curtailment by the conquests of the French in the west, when part of it became French Flanders, and is now included in the departments of Nord and Ardennes; and the conquests of the Dutch in the north who succeeded in including the most northerly portion of it in the province of Zealand. The remainder still retains its ancient name and forms the modern provinces of East and West Flanders in Belgium.

East Flanders is now a province of Belgium, and is bounded on the north by Holland. Its area is 1150 square miles. The surface forms an extensive plain, belonging wholly to the basin of the Scheldt, which, with its tributaries and canals connected with them furnish ample water communication. Its soil, partly of a sandy and partly of a clayey texture, is so industriously and skilfully cultivated that it has the appearance of a vast garden, and presents one of the richest rural landscapes which anywhere exists. The principal crops are wheat and flax. Manufactures have made great progress and all the ordinary, as well as the fine tissues of wool, cotton and flax are largely produced. The province is divided into six arrondissements. The capital is Ghent, having a population of 166,445.

West Flanders, also a province of Belgium, is bounded on the north and northwest by the German ocean, and on the west, southwest and south by France. Its area is 1250 geographical square miles. The surface is generally flat, and a range of sand hills, or downs, lines the greater part of the coast. The southeast portion of the province belongs to the basin of the Scheldt, but by far the larger part of the province sends its waters directly to the German ocean by a number of small streams, chiefly employed in feeding canals. Much of the soil is naturally sandy and poor, but the untiring industry of the inhabitants has converted by far the greater part of it into fertile plains.

Large tracts of moor, however, exist, and cannot well be dispensed with, as they form the principal source of fuel. The most important crop is flax. The principal branch of industry is the manufacture of linen, ordinary and damask. The province is divided with eight arrondissements. The capital is Bruges, whose population is 53,285.

Minnesota Wheat Lands

Kittson County, where the late James J. Hill had a 26,000 acre wheat and stock farm offers unusual opportunities.

The Payne Investment Co. now offers an attractive list of farms in that county, values ranging from $40 to $75 an acre, according to location and improvements.

Read what John W. Thomas, a Morgan county man who located in Kittson county this year, says:

"The grain in this locality is looking fine. We have had an abundance of moisture and from present prospects I expect to harvest enough this year to equal the value of the quarter section of land I purchased. The climate has been ideal thus far and all the members of my family are in the best of health. If you are thinking of buying land I don't know any locality where it will pay for itself as quickly or advance as rapidly as here. The country is settling up very rapidly. Wheat, oats, alfalfa and barley are the principal crops. The soil is rich, black and deep."

Will be pleased to furnish literature and information about Kittson county farms, most of which are located near Humbolt.

Inactive Kidneys Cause Disease

"I shall not soon forget the benefits I derived from the use of Foley Kidney Pills."—Al. A. Godfrey, Forest Grove, Oregon.

Too much work and too little work seem to have about the same effect on persons past middle age. Proper action of the kidneys is necessary to good health. They act as a filter and remove from the blood poisonous waste matter which if permitted to remain in the system leads to many complications.

Many nervous, tired, run down men and women suffer from pains in the back and sides, dizzy spells bladder weakness, sore muscles and stiff joints and fail to realize that rheumatism, diabetes or even Bright's disease may result.

If you have cause to believe that your kidneys are weak, disordered or inactive you should act immediately. Foley Kidney Pills have been used by young, middle aged and old with complete satisfaction. They act quickly and surely and have given relief in cases of ten years' standing.

GERMANS UNABLE TO ENTIRELY STOP FRENCH ADVANCE

inch, intent on saving the bulik of the armies of Generals von der Marwitz and von Hutier, which are retreating in the direction of Nesle and Ham.

The allied pressure has not been diminished, but the Germans have brought up reserves which had been intended for intensive purposes and have thrown them into the defense action temporarily delaying the progress of the allies. Solid occupation by the infantry and artillery in Chaulnes and Roye would be a critical situation for the Germans in their retreat. Light elements of cavalry and cyclists already have penetrated both points, but permanent occupation by the allies and their control of the roads leading to Nesles and Ham have not yet been obtained. The objectives undoubtedly will have to be taken by storm.

In Uncomfortable Position.

With The British Army in France, Aug. 12.—(By The Associated Press)—This afternoon Crown Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria seems to have brought in fresh troops and while the allied forces are pausing of their own accord, the enemy within the area of his new battle front with the Somme at his back is most uncomfortable. British guns are hammering Chaulnes and cannon of larger calibre are drenching the enemy rear with steel. They are also pounding at bridges across the Somme at Betthancourt.

Shelling of bridges here is serious for the enemy as airbombs are continually dropped by British airplanes from a low altitude at bridges in the Peronne district. This bombing has been going on day and night since the battle began forcing the Germans to divert their transport so that the general movement was southeast. Now his bridges to the southwest are under heavy fire. With the comparatively small force of Americans there has been no real heavy fighting. They still are holding their line and their patrols have been sent out now and then.

At many places along the new front especially just south of the Somme the Germans occupy the only line dugouts built by the French more than two years ago. The Germans have concentrated artillery at many places and today are sending in more shells tthan on any day since the battle began. Lihons which came into British hands yesterday when Field Marshal Haig's men stormed the place after having been driven out in a counter-attack was being heavily shelled today.

A party of cavalry charging down the Roye road ran into the cross-fire of large German pillbox studded with machine guns just this side of Roye and received a check, but the Germans who happened to get the opportunity to do this execution paid the extreme penalty later.

Today the resistance by the enemy has been stiffening progressively, but his troops appear to be nervous and apprehensive.

Stories of the air fighting over the battle lines are amazing. One observer coming into his station shot down four machines. In the same fighting a British pilot chased an enemy plane to earth and was swooping down to finish off his antagonist when the man climbed out of his machine and held up his hands in token of surrender.

"So I didn't kill him," the British pilot said, "but on my way home I met a group of enemy machines and got a bullet in me me but managed to land inside our lines."

(The pilot died in a hospital shortly after relating his experience.)

RETURNS HOPING TO RECOVER PROPERTY.

New York, Aug. 12.—George Ehbert, aged New York brewer, who has just returned from Germany hoping to recover his $40,000,000 estate from the alien property custodian on the ground he is an American citizen, no longer a resident of Germany, professed his loyalty to the United States today. He said he had made two previous unsuccessful efforts to leave Germany, but his doctors forbade him to depart. According to his daughter, Mrs. Anna Von Zedlitz who acompanied him, they were both registered as enemy aliens there.

Mr. Ehbert declared he had not subscribed to any of the German war loans as reported. His son, who met his father here, said the Ehret estate had bought $2,000,000 of the last liberty loan.

"My sympathies are entirely with the United States," said the elder Ehret. "I am a great admirer of President Wilson."

Mr. Ehret left Berlin on June 1. The war would go on, he said, he believed as long as the militarist remained in control in Germany. Civilians, he said, lacked food but there was plenty for the troops.

Amsterdam, Aug. 12.—Wholesale arrests of allied nationals have been made at Moscow, according to dispatches from that city to the Lokal Anzeiger of Berlin. The newspaper's correspondent writes:

Thorburn, formerly a partner in the Chicago firm of Waite, Thorburn & Co., who asserts that his firm was wrecked and estimates his loss at $710,000. He asked three times this amount under the treble damage provision of the anti-trust law from John Lampert, John Dupree and Dellora Gates, executrix of the estates of the late John W. and Charles G. Gates.

WOMEN ICE HANDLERS.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 2.—Women ice handlers are being tried out on the wagons of an Indianapolis ice company. Six husky colored women, clad in overalls, are making the rounds for the company. The only difference between their work and the work of the ice man is that the women are instructed to carry two 50-pound chunks instead of one 100-pound cake when the window card orders 100 pounds.

The manager of the company said he got the idea of using women while attending a motion picture show, where he saw pictures of women working as "lumber jacks."

The only surviving member of the first American woman's rights convention, held 70 years ago at Seneca Falls N. Y., is Miss Rhoda Palmer, who is living near Geneva, N. Y., aged 103 years.

were noted. Six men were gassed. No deaths. The gas had the effects of mustard gas and was effective about 36 or 40 minutes. Color of the gas has not yet been ascertained and its effect on trees and shrubbery not yet determined. The entire matter will be investigated and report made.'

"The incident was reported by Colonel Chase to the naval district commandant. Smith's Island is off the mouth of the Cape Fear river near the entrance of the channel to Wilmington, N. C."

Puzzled As To Purpose

Assuming the attack on the island was deliberate, officials were puzzled as to its purpose. The only explanation was that the submarine commander sought to put the lighthouse out of commission thus causing danger to passing ships. If that were the purpose however, officials could not understand why the commander did not destroy the light house with his guns.

In discussing the submarine raid with newspaper correspondents today Secretary Daniels said he believed there are two U-boats operating on this side of the Atlantic. He said he did not believe they have a base on American shores and remarked that they frequently replenished their stores and supplies from vessels they destroy. Since they began operations July 18 in the second riad in American waters since this country entered the war the submarines have accounted for 31 vessels of which all except three have been destroyed in New England and Canadian waters. Three exceptions were the American steamers O. B. Jennings, Merak and Diamond Shoal lightship No. 71, sent down off the middle Atlantic coast.

None Seriously Injured.

WILMINGTON, N. C., Aug. 12. —Information from the coast guard station on Smith's Island at the mouth of the Cape Fear river ernoon suffered serious injury. Those who suffered at the lighthouse are understood to have been the keeper, Captain Charles Swann, his wife and one other, composing the entire crew of the lighthouse, while three of the coast guards at the life saving station also suffered. A brood of chickens on the reservation was killed and other animals on the place showed signs of the gas.

FREIGHT WRECK AT FRANKLIN.

A south bound freight train on the Burlington hit a freight car at Franklin Sunday evening about 8:30 o'clock. The car was knocked from the track and badly damaged and seven cars of the freight were buckled up.

The car had been set out by a north bound freight on account of a hot box. It was the intention to set the car on a stock track but before it could be done the south bound freigth hit it.

The accident was due to the crew of the north bound train not sending out a flagman as it was thought that the southbound train would make a stop as it usually does for water. It failed to stop however, and was going a rate of about 30 miles on hour when it hit the freight car. The wrecker from Beardstown soon cleared the wreckage.

You Can't Rub It Away; Rheumatism is in the Blood

Liniments Will Never Cure

If you are afflicted with rheumatism, why waste time with liniments, lotions and other local applications that never did cure rheumatism, and never will?

Do not try to rub the pain away, for you will never succeed. Try the sensible plan of finding the cause of the pain, and go after that. Remove the cause, and there can be no pain.

You will never be rid of rheumatism until you cleanse your blood of the germs that cause the disease. S. S. S. has never had an equal as a blood purifier and scores of sufferers say that it has cleansed their blood of rheumatism, and removed all trace of the disease from their system.

Get a bottle of S. S. S. at your drug store, and get on the right treatment today. If you want special medical advice, you can obtain it free by addressing Medical Director, 23 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

Letters of Interest from Jacksonville Boys in the Country's Service.

Harold Bartlett's Last Letter to Roy DeSilva.

A very tender relation existed between Harold Bartlett and Roy DeSilva for twelve years and Harold used to call Mrs. DeSilva mother and Wilma sister. They regarded him as one of the family. In a previous letter he said:

July 11, 1918.

Dear Fuzzy:-

Got your letter dated June 16 with the pictures of you and Glen and was sure glad to hear from you. Have received two or three from Wilma, but wont's be able to write to her yet. Tell her I'll write as soon as I can tho. I got the song book she sent in one letter. Was sure glad to get those pictures. Wish you would get busy and keep the kodak warm for a while. Seems like you could send a couple pictures every time you write. Try to get some of Dad and more of you and Glen. Guess you have seen my letters that Dad got and know that I have been in the front lines for over a month. Believe me this is some game they're playing over here and not such a pleasant one either. I think the last time I wrote you we had only been in a couple quiet sectors, but take it from me, we've been in one real active one since then. You've probably seen the papers and know as much as I could tell you.

Our company was in a big attack that captured a section of woods from the Boche and held it two weeks, when we were relieved by another bunch. I don't know whether the papers tell you or not, but you know we aren't fighting in the trenches any more. It's all open warfare now, and I think its a whole lot worse than the ditches. The trenches are full or rather lined with big dugouts, to fifteen or twenty feet below the ground where the biggest shells could hardly do any damage, but when we take a piece of wood now there is absolutely no protection for us except to dig ourselves in, and of course we can't dig much of a hole in two or three hours, and that's about all the time we have before the Huns begin shelling us. I generally try to put a few sticks of dirt on top of my hole and cover them with dirt to protect me from shrapnel, but if a shell ever strikes direct or even four or five feet of the hole its good night Lizzy for me. Fortunately none of them have ever come that close to me yet, altho I have been nearly knocked out of my hole by the concussion several times. Hope none of them ever come any closer.

Could tell you a great deal more Roy, but its nearly dark now, and since we are so near the lines, we can't have lights. I'll have to make this do until I have more time. Will write again when I get farther back, and I get a few of these letters off my hands.

Harold.

Arthur Johnson Writes From Camp Shelby.

The following letter was received recently by Misses Mabel and Emma Johnson of Literberry from their brother, Arthur Johnson, who is one of the Morgan County men in training at Camp Shelby, Miss.:

Camp Shelby,
August 3, 1918.

Dear Sisters:-

I guess I had better write you a letter as I am not very busy at present, and it seems as tho I do not get letters from you very often. So you had better answer this one, or I will come home and see what is the matter with you. It wouldn't be right for you to forget your soldier brother. Of course I don't mean that you ought to send him any cake or anything of that sort, for it is such a long journey that it is almost unrecognizable by the time it reaches its destination. We get plenty to eat.

We had another battle the other day or night rather. Got up at one o'clock. Had breakfast at one-thirty. Got out in the woods about two fifteen. We formed our skirmish lines and after we were all set we were allowed to lie down and sleep the most of the time until day-light. Just about six o'clock, the artillery opened fire just a few hundred yards behind us. We didn't know that was to happen, you can imagine that it was some surprise to us. I was asleep at the time, but after the first round was fired I woke up and could see things that I never saw before or since.

They flied over our heads. We could hear the shells burst about a mile or so ahead of us. So you see we were as safe as a soldier is ever supposed to be. I told one of the sergeants that if I had know that we dede going out in any thing like that I would have written a letter home before I went. I guess he thought that I thought it was awfully dangerous out there.

We had a couple of sandwiches each along with us. I did not know how long the battle was going to last. I though probably that was our dinner until one of the sergeants near where I was raised up and said he believed that he would eat some. He unwrapped his sandwiches looked at them a while and then said: "Boys I've seen most all kinds of sandwiches but that's the first soup sandwich I've ever seen.

We were supposed to be perfectly noiseless, but with Sergeant Buggard around it was impossible. We were out drilling one day and he was our instructor. It was rather warm and he said: "Now, boys, don't think for a minute that I am working you hard just because I want to see you work. But if I do not tell you all that I know about it and you go over there and get killed The Lord will hold me responsible." He says he don't think this war will last till it is all over.

We got about forty more men in our company yesterday. The most of them are from Florida. Our corporal says they all look like they are buttermilk fed. Says some of them couldn't keep step with a threshing machine. Our corporal's name is Johnson Steppe. He is about as noisy as I. He says he only intends to live thru this war and another one.

I see some of the boys from Jacksonville occasionally. Coy Harris, John Hanning, Gus Phalen and last but not least Muriel Cain. The best natured soldier in Mississippi.

I am having a very nice time. I go to automatic rifle school in the mornings and drill some in the afternoons. I took one of those rifles apart and put it back together with a handkerchief over my eyes. Some og the boys even accused me of seeing. But that was sure a mistake, for any one that knows me knows that I would not even as mush as think of cheating in any kind of a game.

I got your letter, or letters rather, today. You had better not expect a letter from me every day for I am too lazy to write so often. I think that most every body else is doing better than I. Of course I used to get some letters that seemed to have no end. And the further I went the better they would be. But some letters that I get now are just merely notes. Reminds me of when I used to go to school, about half of my time was spent writing notes. But a good part of them were to the teachers.

I heard the call for pay a short while ago. There was no need of asking any one to be in a hurry then. Even I got in a hurry. And that is something unusual. I never used to be able to hurry if I wanted to. I will give the army credit for the fact that they have changed that part about me. Now I have a hard time to keep my self from running over some of the rest of them.

Well, don't you think I had better ring off? I think I will go over to the Y. M. C. A. after a while. I must keep posted on what is going on over there as the other night they had about fifty watermelons and I was not aware of that fact, and I did not get to partake of the feast. I would just about as soon have missed a day's drill as to miss my part of the watermelon.

I want to inform you that I am feeling fine. I don't believe I could stand it if I felt any better. I have also got most of that grave yard move worked out of me. Now don't forget to write to me at least once every three months.

The Daily Journal is quite a guide to me as to what is taking place in the United States.

Your brother,
Arthur.

Serg. Wright in France.

Mrs. Elizabeth Stebbins has received the following letter from her nephew, Sergt. Charles L. Wright, who is with the American forces in France. The letter was written to the young man's mother, Mrs. J. H. Shriver, and was forwarded by her to Mrs. Stebbins.

Dear Mother:

Have no paper, a small candle and only a stub of a pencil but we will soon go back to a rest billet and I can there purchase paper.

There are some of our patrols out in no man's land tonight and our guns are quiet.

This afternoon one of our runners came up with a handful of mail. Yours of the 12th and 16th of June were included. I read them several times and did enjoy them. Also heard from Aunt C. and Z. They have been splendid to me as each of the last three mails have brought letters from them.

There is really little to tell you for I have been no where and have seen nothing new. Have just been doing my three hours on and six off for a month, with the exception of a few days about three weeksago when I was back at our reserve position. One can get plenty of rest with those hours except occasionally when we get the signal to fire and then all man our guns and find our rest period gone and another three hour guard period upon us.

All incoming mail is uncensored so you may write as you wish and what you wish.

Yesterday a Post Dispatch of May the nineteenth arrived. It is worn out now as all of the boys read it thru, even to advertisements.

The other night we fired eight thousand rounds in our two guns and did very effective work. The guns worked beautifully and must have sounded like they were playing Yankee Doodle to the Wily Boche.

I feel like a Christmas tree whenever I'm on duty, a leather vest, tin helmet, a gas mask suspended from my neck and ready for instant use. A 45 caliber Smith and Wesson strapped to my leg, a pair of field glasses hung from my left shoulder.

Have heard nothing about Bob Terry. Heard Newport was in our convoy. Heard indirectly that Newport was at a field not far from London and expecting any time to come to France. That was ometime ago. Am sure Terry is alright, just has been busy and careless about writing. Pride is well and in fine spirits.

Lots of love,
Charles.

RED CROSS EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE IN SESSION

Much Business of Importance Transacted—H. J. Rodgers and T. M. Tomlinson Presented Resignations—Publicity Committee Appointed.

At a meeting of the executive committee of the Red Cross held on the lawn at the public library Monday evening the resignation of H. J. Rodgers as a member of the committee was presented.

One of the rules of the Red Cross organization is that no person who is a candidate for office can hold an office in the Red Cross. Recently Mr. Rodgers announced his candidacy for representative and at once presented his resignation.

The resignation was accepted with expressions of regret by members of the committee. Mayor Rodgers has been a splendid worker on the committee and his services will be greatly missed. Frank J. Waddell was elected to succeed Mr. Rodgers.

T. M. Tomlinson who has so acceptably filled the position of purchasing agent for the local Red Cross also presented his resignation. Mr. Tomlinson has given splendid satisfaction in the position but his resignation was presented because of ill health. Mrs. F. J. Heinl was elected to the position.

The committee also decided to name a publicity committee. This committee is composed of W. L. Fay, chairman; Mrs. J. T. King, secretary; Mrs. Miller Weir and Mrs. Ralph I. Dunlap.

Each day there is much in the way of publicity matter that comes to the Red Cross shop. Much of it is of no value from a local standpoint. It will be the duty of this committee to sort out this matter and keep only that which is valuable for local use.

Civilian Relief Planned

One of the most important matters taken up was that of civilian relief. This committee was headed by the late Dr. R. B. Wilson. Up to the time of his death there had not been enough work to call for the enlargement of the functions of the committee.

The civilian relief committee is for the purpose of keeping in touch with the dependent families of soldiers in service. This work will consist in seeing to the allotments in case of delay and to see that the members of a soldiers' family do not get in actual distress. In other words it will be a committee to see that the morale of the community is kept at a high standard. The possibilities of the committee as the war progresses and more men become engaged in action will enlarge and its work will be of vast importance in the future.

The Rev. W. E. Collins was elected as chairman of this committee. He is given power to select his own secretary and his committee, one from each precinct in the county.

In addition to ordering the payment of all properly approved bills the committee voted to immediately apportion the amount due each precinct from the allotment for the purchase of war materials.

The apportionment is 25 per cent of the amount subscribed by the precinct so that a precinct gets back in proportion to what it gives. The local Red Cross chapters are allowed to keep 25 per cent of the total amount secured in the Red Cross drive for the purchase of war materials and it can be used for no other purpose.

Subscriptions Overdue

Chairman Crabtree said last night that out of approximately $76,000 pledged to this war fund that $47,000 had been collected. Many subscriptions are now due and unpaid. The committee wishes to announce that it is the duty of all those whose subscriptions are due to make payment without compelling those in charge to collect it. All subscriptions are due and payable at the Elliott State bank.

MUSINGS FROM NORTONVILLE

Red Cross Picnic Was Most Successful—Other News Notes of Interest.

Nortonville, Aug. 12.—The Red Cross picnic at Nortonville last Wednesday was enjoyed by everybody that was there, the day was hot and plenty of dust There was a large crowd and plenty of good eats for the day. There were 95 gallons of cream sold; 300 hundred gallons of burgoo and 600 pounds of fish sold and the things sold for the auction brought a goodly sum. There were seven hundred dollars cleared after debts were paid. We had plenty of good speaking by Rev. W. E. Spoonts, Hugh Green and Mrs. Josephine Spencer. The latter had a shell that her son sent her from France that our American boys use in battle. She held out for contributions and got $58.32 which she turned over to the committee for the Red Cross.

Mrs. Ed. Lumsden, Mrs. John Anderson and Mrs. Curt Kelly were chairmen of the picnic. The ladies and men all took hold and did their work well, all staying at their work till things were all sold. W. T. Henry made the burgoo and was praised by all who tried it. Mrrs. Louis Sooy, Robert Henry and Edward Henry fried the fish for the d

Ed. Lumsden and wife have gone to Elshun to work during the winter. They left Friday morning. She went down near Cairo, Ill., to visit her mother before she went to work and their friends regretted to see them leave and will be missed very much for they were good neighbors.

Miss Louvica and Ferdinand Fanning are down from Jacksonville visiting relatives.

The son of Eliza Ferry fell from a swing and crushed the bone in his ankle, but is improving nicely at present

Ernest Henry left this morning for Camp Taylor. He has been here visiting his brothers and sisters, Gus Henry, W. T. Henry, Charles Kelly and Harry Seymour.

Miss Eola Smith and father have gone to Camp Taylor to visit friends there.

Mrs. Charles Lashmet is still on the sick list.

John Kelly was a city caller from Nortonville yesterday.

LOCAL INDEES LOST TO FRANKLIN SUNDAY

Game Lost in Ninth with Two Men Out—Seymour Wins Own Game with Long Single.

With two men out, two on and two runs needed to win, "Ginger" Seymour, pitcher for the Franklin team, won his own game in the ninth inning at Franklin Sunday with a long single. The final count was 5 to 4.

The locals had been in front up to that period and with the weak end of the batting order up it looked like a sure victory. However, Day suffered a temporary brainstorm in the fifth inning, during which he threw wildly to third and paved the way for the final victory thru Seymour's single.

Jacksonville scored a run in the first when Denny beat out a bunt, stole second and scored on Ruble's single. Beerup's single and steal, Gorman's fumble of Day's roller and Denny's single scored two in the second. The last local run came in the seventh on a missed third strike on Denny who went clear to third on DeFrates' sacrifice and scored on Ruble's infield out.

Franklin scored two in the fifth on a walk, a single, Day's wild peg and an infield out. Seymour scored one in the eighth on a single, a steal, an infield out and a muffed fly by Smith. A missed third strike, and singles by Gorman and Seymour put over the tying and winning run in the ninth. The score:

Packers' Costs and Profits

How much do you think it costs—

1. To dress beef, cure hides, and prepare all the numerous by-products?
2. To cool the meat for two or three days before shipment?
3. To freight it to all parts of the country in special refrigerator cars, iced daily?
4. To carry it in hundreds of branch houses, each with its refrigerating plant?
5. And to deliver it to the retailer—sweet and fresh—in less than two weeks after dressing?

Swift & Company did all this for you in 1917 at an expense of less than 2½ cents per pound of beef sold, including an average profit of ¼ of a cent a pound.

Figure for yourself how little effect this cost and profit had on prices you paid for beef steak.

NEW TREATMENT OF TUBERCULAR SOLDIERS

London, July — An important experiment in the treatment of tuberculous soldiers has just been inaugurated by the British authorities at Papworth Hall, near Cambridge. Here an estate of 100 acres of park and woodland has been turned into an open air sanitorium, where the patients will undergo treatment and work at the same time.

The men already assigned to the Papworth Hall sanitorium are at work as carpenters, tailors and market gardeners. For some, cotages have been erected, while others must remain in the main building under closer medical supervision until the doctors are satisfied that they are ready to live by themselves in the cottage colony.

Sir George Fordham, chairman of the Cambridgeshire country council, is head of the Papworth Hall work, and Queen Mary is among its supporters.

PESSIMISTIC REPORTS ADVANCE CORN

CHICAGO, Aug. 12.—Pessimistic crop reports and of excessive heat in the southwest had much to do today with sharp advances in corn. The market closed storng 3c to 3½c net higher with Sept. $1.62⅛ to 1.62⅜ and Oct. $1.63¼ to 1.63⅜. Oats gained ½c to ¾@⅞c. The finish in provisions ranged from 15c decline to a rise of 12c . Except just at the outset on reports of showers and during another brief interval an hour later, corn showed a decided upward tendency.

Crop damage reports from southern Illinois and from Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas aided the bulls. Large receipts depressed oats butl ater the strength of corn gave prices an upward swing. In provosions, teh fact that hogs had touched $20.15, the topmost point on record, was a strengthening factor. Demand for pork however was lacking.

MRS. J. B. WHITE INJURED IN RUNAWAY

In Thrown from Vehicle When Horse Runs Away in West College Avenue—Horse Frightened By Automobile Searchlight.

When driving home Monday night Mrs. J. B. White and Miss Minnie Braithwaite were thrown from their buggy when the horse they were driving became frightened and ran away. They had just delivered some milk to Batz's Cafe and were returning home west of the city when their horse became frightened at a light thrown across the street from a standing automobile and ran away.

It was so dark that they could not see to kuide the horse and it ran into the curbing throwing the two women out. Mrs. White was cut about the hands and her shoulder and side were severely bruised. Miss Braithwaite was not injured. Dr. Bradley was called and gave medical attention to Mrs. White.

The horse which they were driving was one which has been long in the possession of Mr. White and it was considered quite safe, but about a week ago it became frightened and attempted to run away but was controlled. This time the women were taken by surprise and could not control the horse.

HEALTH EXPERT TALKS ABOUT LOCAL FACTS

Dr. Hemenway Appearel Before Council Monday — Incinerating Plant To Be Built At City Dump —Water Saving Requested.

At the meeting of the city council Monday morning, Dr. Hemenway, special representative of the state health department, was present and talked in an informal way about local conditions. As a result of his inspection work in the city and suggestions made the council quickly went on record as favoring the construction of an incinerating plant. Mr. Martin had previously indicated his willingness to try out this plan and has funds available from the garbage tax for the work. It is proposed to built a small plant with a steel shelf system, according to a plan perfected by Major Williams at the Ft. Riley cantonment. A plant of this particular description can be built, it is said, at a cost of a few hundred dollars and is of sufficient size to take care of the garbage of a city of 20,000 people. Several hundred pounds of wood are used for startin- the fire and after that the burning garbage generates its own heat.

Want Wider Walks.

When the council had been called to order and routine business had been transacted a petition was read from residents of Cox street asking that proposed walk there be made 3½ feet wide instead of 3 feet. This was granted. Mr. Vasconcellos for the water department, reported pumping in progress from all of the north side wells and equipment in fair condition . He stated that water is being taken quite rapidly from the lake and that unless a copious rain comes within two weeks' time that another bad situation will develop. It is, therefore, the request of the water department that people cease the using of water for all yard and street sprinkling and thus curtail consumption so that there may be a supply for sanitation and fire protection purposes.

Thomas Worthington was present in behalf of William Wood to make mention of the bad condition at the corner of Jordan street and Kosciusko street where as a result of teh pavement grade on West State street water rushes down Kosciusko street to the damageof the Wood property. Mr. Worthington said he appeared not as an attorney but as a friend of the petitioner and asked that some step be taken to relieve the condition. He said that the fall to Fayette street seemed to be sufficient to provide a way for this water to run off if something is done with curbing or tiling.

Mr. Cox said it was really impossible to get any extra workers for the water department and that the only way to secure permanent relief there in his opinion was to pave Jordan street from Fayette to Prairie street. He said a numberof the residents had several times talked about this very thing. It was then mentioned by Mayor Rodgers that it would probably not be possible to do any paving because of the government's attitude on this question, but he suggested that a concrete curbing might be put in which would take care of the water and which could later be used in connection with street pavement. Meanwhile with a graded street and with a satisfactory curb and gutter the results would probably be satisfactory.

May Condemn Building.

Mr. Martin referred to the bad condition of the Woods barn building on East Court street, owned by George Nunes. He said that part of the walls were propped up and that the building is in such condition that it constitutes a serious fire menace. He suggested that other members of the council go with him to inspect this building in the course of a few days with the idea of requiring that it be rebuilt.

Mr. Cox mentioned the work in progress on city sewers and told again of the difficulty of securing needed workers. Mayor Rodgers gave a report to show that excellent progress is being made in the matter of securing leases for the land needed for the proposed reservoir, all but four of the property owners having signed up. The mayor indicated the committee's expectation to secure the property of a number of these without the necessity of condemnation proceedings. The report of J. E. Martin as chief of police showed a total of 37 arrests, city warrants 34, state warants 3, and the amount of fines collected was $234.20. The arrests were as follows: drunkenness 19, disorderly conduct 15, disorderly house 1, inmate of disorderly house 6, assault with intent to kill 1, grand larceny 1, debt 1.

The report of C. O. Bayha, justice of the peace, showed fines collected $123.40; city costs, $51.40; j. p. costs, $59.40.

Conditions Very Bad.

Speaking further upon local sanitary conditions, Dr. Hemenway with unequivocal language called conditions here bad. He referred to some extent to alleys in the business district, where wooden receptacles are often used for garbage and attract seemingly millions of flies. But his special reference was to the dumping ground, which he said certainly demanded the earnest attention of Jacksonville people Something must be done to put an end to the offensnve odors arising from garbage, rotten eggs, dead chickensc and refuse matter of various kinds which is piled indiscriminately on this dumping ground.

Dr. Hemenway called it a criminal condition which the people of Jacksonvilie seemingly thru a long period have permitted to exist. He said good sanitary conditions mean first of all pure water, which Jacksonville does not hav,e and second, adequate sewerage system, which Jacksonville does not have. A third esential is the proper care of private vaults and this evidently is not given. It is flies, flies, flies in connection with all these things which is, in the opinion of Dr. Hemenway, causing various diseases in Jacksonville.

Typhoid Fever Record

He stated that the records show that this city has as many cases of typhoid fever now monthly as the average city of this size, where sanitary conditions are satisfactory, has in a year. The state health expert did not particularly blame city officials for the condition as it is evident that the dumping ground and general sanitary conditions here have been running about the same thru various years. The speaker is somewhat familiar with financial conditions in other cities and so realized that in Jacksonville the municipality does not have all the funds necessary to carry on the work which should be done in a sanitary way. He made the good point that after all, proper sanitation is possible by the co-operative effort of the people and, in fact, in that way only is it really possible.

In one city the speaker knew of where the city itself did not have funds for street cleaning, the business men and residents at a specified time cleaned off the streets adjoining their property. By this concerted effort the streets were kept in a sanitary and healthful condition. In other words, real co-operation is the means by which bettered conditions may be expected.

The Vault Danger.

Neither did the speaker criticise the health warden, for he said Dr. King was doing all and more than he was paid for. The proper attention to health conditions in a city of this size will require practically all the time of a health officer. Dr. Hemenway spoke very forcefully and very pointedly and unfortunately there is no denying the truth of his statements. In his recommendation with reference to vaults the health expert declared that everyone should be entirely flyproof. It was evident thruout all his talk that Dr. Hemenway believes that flies constitute a very large factor in the spread of typhoid respecting the local situation.

RAHE AUTO MEN WILL BE TRANSFERRED

Jacksonville Young Women Return From Visiting at Army Camp.

Mrs. Carl E. Newport and sister, Miss Bertha Lucas, have returned from Kansas City, where they spent several days visiting Mr. Newport, who is in the army service on duty at the Rahe auto school. The Jacksonville young women were very much interested in the picture of army life they saw. It was dreadfully hot in Kansas City during nearly all of their visit, but they said that the men seemed to stand up well under the rigorous work given them. Mr. Newport, along with the others who have been taking training at the school during recent weeks, will very soon be sent to another cantonment.

A Kansas City paper, making refrence to the early departure of the motor mechanics, had the following paragraphs:

"The 3,200 army motor mechanics who leave Kansas City for "somewhere" the first of next week said a formal farewell last night in a public review on the Rahe field in North Kansas City. Several thousand persons witnessed the exhibition.

"Men from the Sweeney school went in motor trucks to the Rahe school's field. The military bands from the two schools played for the drills. After the review guard mount was held.

"The men at the two schools have completed their two month's courses and the new contingent which will consist of about 3,700 men, half to each school, will begin work about the middle of the week. About 150 men in the new contingent at the Rahe school will be from Kansas City. Nine hundred members of the contingent will be from Missouri. The others will be from Wisconsin and North Carolina.

"Both the Sweeney andl Rahe schools are making arrangements to accommodate the increased number of men by fitting up new dormitories in the Overland and Sears-Robuck buildings."

FORMER RESIDENT DEAD BY DROWNING

Harry M. Stout of Joplin, Mo., Brother of Mrs. Charles Thompson, is Drowned Friday—Well Known Here as Baseball Player—Prominent in Business and Masonic Circles in Joplin.

Mrs. Charles Thompson received a telegram Sunday stating that her brother, Harry M. Stout, of Joplin, Mo., had met death by drowning last Friday.

Tho the message contained no particulars, Mrs. Thompson believes that her brother met death while on a vacation trip in Arkansas with a number of friends. Mr. and Mrs. Thompson left for Joplin Sunday.

Harry M. Stout was born and grew to manhood in this city. He was about 43 years of age at the time of death . He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Van Stout, both of whom preceded him in death. His father died at Joplin last January and his mother died at the home of Mrs. Thompson in this city in March. On both occasions Mr. Stout was here to attend the funerals.

When a resident here Harry Stout won great fame as a baseball player. He was a pitcher and played with local teams in the '90's. When the Spanish-American war started he enlisted in old Company I, Fifth Regiment and served during that war, being mustered out of service with the remainder of his company in the fall of 1898.

Shortly after that he went to Joplin, Mo., where he engaged in business. He had become one of the successful business men of the Missouri city and served as an alderman in the city council for a number of years. He was prominent in Masonic circles and was a Knights Templar.

In 1900 he was united in marriage to Miss Maude Driffield, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Driffield of this city, now residing in Joplin. To this union two children were born, Corrine and Walter, who with his widow survive.

During his residence here Mr. Stout by his genial manner made many friends. To these the news of his death will be received with regret. It is not known what arrangements have been made for the funeral.

AUTO SMASHUP

Sunday afternoon about 4:30 as Miss Adele Heinl and brother Edward were riding north on Prairie street they collided at the crossing of West College street with Jos. Mallen going west in his Ford delivery auto. Mr. Mallen thought he was going about 12 to 15 miles an hour. His car was completely wrecked, the rods twisted, the front axle used up, the front wheels put out of commission and the front generally used up. Miss Heinl's car is a Cadillac runabout and was struck just behind the engine. The running board and side of the car were much battered but the engine was unhurt and the car was able to proceed all right. Mr. Mallen had in his car his little daughter Helen and when he saw the inevitable he grabbed her and pulled her back. She was badly cut about the face and head and her arm was bruised but nothing serious is anticipated. Mr. and Miss Heinl were not hurt.
